European Journal of

Nuclear Medicine

and Molecular Imaging

Official Journal of the European Association of Nuclear Medicine (EANM)

1 Aims and Scope

The aim of the European Journal of Nuclear Medicine and Molecular Imaging is to provide a forum for the exchange of clinical and scientific information for the nuclear medicine community and allied professions involved in the functional, metabolic and molecular investigation of disease. The European Journal of Nuclear Medicine and Molecular Imaging will remain of primary interest to those practising the field of nuclear medicine but will also report on original works relating to physics, dosimetry, radiation biology, computer science, radiochemistry and pharmacy. The Journal will welcome original material reflecting the growing field of molecular imaging probes, reporter gene assays, cell trafficking, targeting of endogenous gene expression and antisense methodologies.

The Journal will continue to publish in depth Reviews of topical interest, Occasional surveys, Short communications and Letters to the editor. A section on Controversies is also a new feature. Case reports are not published.

2 Copyright

Submission of a manuscript implies: that the work described has not been published before (except in form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, review or thesis); that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere; that its publication has been approved by all co-authors, if any, as well as – tacitly or explicitly – by the responsible authorities at the institution where the work was carried out. Transfer of copyright to Springer-Verlag becomes effective if and when the article is accepted for publication. An author may make an article published by Springer-Verlag available on his/her personal home page, provided the source of the published article is cited and Springer-Verlag is mentioned as the copyright owner. Authors are requested to create a link to the published article in Springer's internet service. The link must be accompanied by the following text: "The original publication is available at springerlink.com".
